THE DOWNEY STRIKE IS OFF.

Cabinet-Makers' Demands Are Granted, and All Go to Work

The cabinet-makers and wood-carvers, about one hundred and ten men in all, in Contractor John Downey's shop at Thirty-third street and Ninth avenue, went on strike this morning, in pursuance of the plan agreed upon late yesterday, when Contractor Downey agreed to work under the new demand, that the cabinet-makers, agreed to accept the carpenters were striking, should receive the same wages as the carpenters—$3.50 a day.

Contractor Downey agreed to give an answer to-day, and the Board of Delegates of the Building Trades are hopeful that the strike, which they expected to declare off yesterday, will at least be settled.

An agreement was reached this afternoon with Contractor Downey which resulted in all strikes being declared off, and the men will all go back to work to-morrow morning.

The terms of the settlement, it is said, are that the cabinet-makers shall receive $3.50 per day and none but union men shall be employed.

To discuss the Cloakmakers' Strike.
The Executive Board of the Cloakmakers' Union will discuss the consequences of the strike at Meyer Jonasson's shop at 125 Irving street, to-morrow morning. A statement to the public is to be read by Abraham Kahan.

PARKHURST WILL TALK BACK.

To Denounce the Grand Jury in His Next Sunday's Sermon.

It was said to-day by one of the Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst's friends that that clergyman proposes to tell the congregation of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church in his sermon next Sunday what he thinks of the Grand Jury which censured his former attacks on municipal officials, and at the same time explain why he does not apologize to District-Attorney Nicol for the personal attack made by the preacher on him.

Meanwhile the Reverend Doctor proposed to push the program of the "exiles" cause, the breaking of the bank of James Dowd, "Silver Dollar" Smith, Morrissey, and the other salaried-keepers whose arrest was strong enough to nominate him.

PRINTERS BURNED OUT.

Caused Arrests After Inducing the Purchase of Oleomargarine.

Three west side restaurant keepers, Frederick Miller, 60 Laight street; Mrs. Caroline Hadachek, of 133 Seventh avenue, were held trial to-day at the Tombs court for setting unburned oleomargarine.

A fourth, Michael Carroll, of 155 Hudson street, was also arraigned, and testified that Agent W. H. Meeker, of the State Dairy Commission, who was complainant in all the cases, had induced him to buy the stuff from a Jersey City dealer.

Justice McMahon became very indignant, and ordered Carroll to make oath to his statement, after which Meeker was held for examination Saturday.
